

GUIDELINES FOR JURING ARTWORK INTO THE DARE ARTS GALLERY

The Dare Arts Gallery displays works in fine art and fine craft that are of exemplary quality and demonstrate creativity and technical mastery. Artist wishing to have their work included must have their work juried during one of the periodic jury sessions. The following information will help artists prepare work for jurying. For policies and procedures of accepted work please read the Gallery Display Guidelines.

All artists represented in the Gallery must be current members of Dare Arts, age 18 or older. Preference will be given to members located in the greater northeastern North Carolina region.

Jurying Details

- New artists will be reviewed in March and November.
- Artists who have been accepted into the gallery but would like to display in a different medium must submit this new work to the jury in March or November.
- You may submit more than one medium per jury session. Each submission must have the requisite 5 pieces, along with a complete set of paperwork see below for that submission.
- Previously juried artists who have not shown work in the gallery for 5 years or more must re-jury.

The following paperwork is required to submit work for consideration.

- Five (5) original, presentation-ready works of art in the same medium and category
- A brief biography
- An artist statement and brief description of materials/techniques used
- The Jury Submission Form
- The signed Agreement and Waiver Form

Categories of work accepted for jurying are painting, printmaking, photography, ceramics, glass, metal, jewelry, fiber (wearable and non-wearable), sculpture, mixed media, wood, and drawing.

Total wall space of the five pieces not to exceed an area of 5 x 5 feet

Please contact the Gallery Director if your work does not fit neatly into any of these categories or you would like further guidance on what can and cannot be accepted. dareartsgallery@gmail.com (252)473-5558

Types of work that will NOT be considered:

- Anything that violates copyright law
- Items made from or based on kits, commercial patterns, or commercial molds
- Commercial items purchased and decorated such as t-shirts or other clothing items, or purchased unfinished furniture, porcelain or pottery
- Work made from combining commercial objects
- Dried flowers; wreaths; stencil art; dough art or food, or other items at the discretion of the Gallery Committee and/or jury.
- Classroom or student work (work executed under direct supervision)

Submission Process

- Your work must be “presentation-ready”: wall-hanging items may not have saw-tooth hooks or inadequate wiring, and framed work must be properly wired for display.
- Table-top or freestanding items should have a sturdy and stable base appropriate to the work.
- Jewelry works are best presented with display stands or in a manner that allows the work to be evaluated in their best light.
- You must submit work created within the last five years.
- You may submit SETS of items among your entry if you feel that will better represent your work.
- You must deliver your work to the Dare Arts Gallery on the specified dates. We do not accept digital submissions.
- After the jury notifications, you must pick up your work promptly. Any artwork left at the Gallery for more than five (5) days after jury notification will be considered a donation to Dare Arts.

No critique beyond the notes from the Jury will be offered when work is not accepted.

Donation request

The gallery staff asks that each artist who has been juried in consider donating one piece of work each year to be offered for auction at our annual fundraising Gala/event, held in October. While this is not mandatory, the money raised by your art donation provides the major source of funding for Dare Arts annual programming.

AGREEMENT AND WAIVER

By submitting your work for jurying and potential display of your artwork with the Dare County Arts Council Gallery, you agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this document. In addition to signing this agreement, each submission of artworks for display in the Gallery must be accompanied by a completed Consignment Form.
